About Me

As a dedicated student of Artificial Intelligence, I'm passionate about coding and problem-solving. With hands-on experience in C++, I've successfully developed an LMS and a bank system as university projects. While I'm proficient in HTML, I'm actively expanding my skill set by diving into Python, CSS, and JavaScript. My curiosity and drive fuel my continuous learning journey, and I'm excited to apply my growing knowledge to real-world challenges. I've successfully developed an LMS ,fully functional calculator and bank system as university projects

Work Experience
